FP7 - FINANCIAL & PROJECT MANAGEMENT

2-day intensive management training
Practical Personal Professional

“Getting funded is only the beginning...”

Do you know how to...

- » Prepare the financial reports according to the new rules and regulations?
- » Draft the CA in order to protect all partner's interests?
- » Avoid financial mismanagement?
- » Get partners to deliver on time and within budget?
- » Be a decision-maker rather than a laborer in the consortium?
- » Survive an EC project audit?

Facts of FP7...

- » More than 15000 proposals were submitted in the first round of FP7, fewer than 2500 will make it to negotiations, and still fewer will actually get funded
- » There are fewer reporting periods but stricter guidelines
- » Success of your EC project depends entirely on the quality of your staff
- » The main sources of errors in costs claimed by beneficiaries relate to personnel and indirect costs

Our solution...

FP7 - Financial & Project Management

2-day intensive management training

Insight

- » Tips and tactics
- » Practical knowledge from experienced lecturers
- » Grant Agreement negotiations
- » Financial reporting and cost allocation
- » Working with your project officer

Interactive

- » One-on-One interaction with Europe's leading project managers
- » Personal consultation on the issues that matter to you
- » Workshops on financial rules and reporting

The FP7 Financial and Project Management training is designed to provide project managers, administrators and financial personnel with the skills needed to successfully implement EC projects. The participants will be guided through all the procedures of project implementation, from Grant Agreement negotiations to financial reporting to project reporting, including audits and other “touchy” issues. Experienced FP7 Project Managers will facilitate negotiations and will moderate practical workshops, providing the entire spectrum of the FP7 project management cycle.

Free e-learning Participants are given 2-weeks free e-learning access to provide them with background and theoretical knowledge of FP7. The e-learning is highly recommended as the information complements the Management training workshop.

In the Spotlight:

- Grant Agreement
- Negotiation procedures
